Principal's Report

I have been overwhelmed with the positive response that I have received from parents and community members in relation to the start of our conversations about bullying and cyber-bullying.

Keeping our children safe and teaching them about kindness and respect are essential as we navigate the online environment together. I really appreciate your support and the open and honest conversations that have already begun in many homes. Many children have also spoken to both myself and their teachers about ideas they have, which is excellent.

This world is new and we must be aware of the reality so that we can work together to 'fix' it and guide our children. It is our job as adults, to parent and teach our children. We must continue to have frequent, open, honest conversations with them. We need to teach them about being a good person; to teach them about love, friendship and kindness; to teach them about gratitude and the things that they have to be thankful for and to teach them about difference and acceptance.

I am confident that together we will be able to navigate through the new world with our children.
